RE: David Cote

Dear Sir or Madam:

I have been made aware that David Cote is applying to be a student at your University. I highly recommend David to any program that this student might wish to pursue at your institution. David has been a student of mine in my Psychology classes in the past and proved to be an excellent learner. He is extremely motivated and has an intense desire to learn and discover new things. He takes pride and pleasure in his work. Furthermore, he is academically inquisitive and strives to achieve in-depth knowledge of the subject areas that he examines.

Mr. Cote is also a team player whose passion concerning the course material helped to generate enthusiasm among the other students, adding to the overall class learning experience. His intellectual curiosity, desire to share knowledge, as well as his ability to communicate with others has made David a welcome addition to my classes.

I would strongly endorse this students' efforts to gain admission to your University.

Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter. If I can be of any further assistance, please feel free to contact me at (386) 246-4808.

Respectfully,

John W. McNeeley, Ph.D.
Professor
